

Eclipse resources

Agenda

- Articles and tutorials
- Books
- Communities

Articles and tutorials

Eclipse Corner

- The Eclipse Corner is a great site for articles by Eclipse insiders.
 - eclipse.org/articles/

IBM developerWorks

- ibm.com/developerWorks site has dozens of Eclipse articles, such as:
 - Internationalizing your Eclipse plug-in
 - Embedding a relational database server into Eclipse
 - Tuning Eclipse startup performance
 - Using SWT and JFace in stand-alone mode
- Visit the site and search for "eclipse."

onjava.com

- O'Reilly's Java developer site has quite a few articles on Eclipse as well.
 - Go to onjava.com, search for "eclipse."

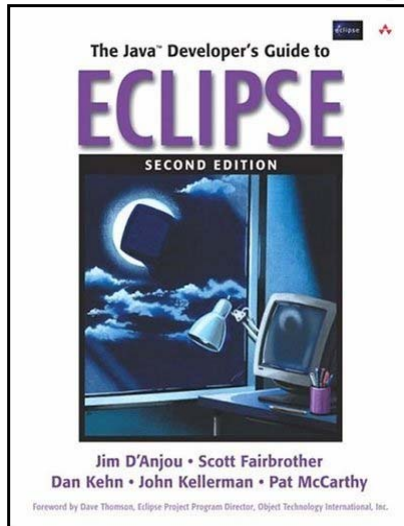

Books

Books

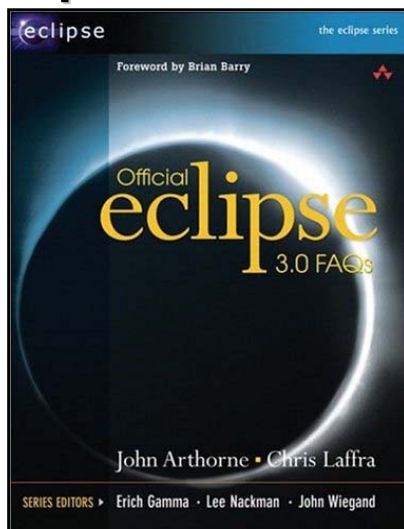

- Fortunately for us, many of the chief developers of Eclipse have written very helpful books.
- I'll go over the ones I've found the most useful.
 - More Eclipse books are being published all the time, so keep your eyes open for new titles.

The Java Developer's Guide

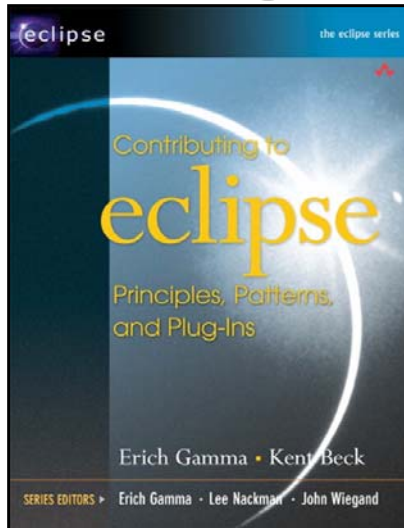

- Probably the most popular book on Eclipse.
- The second edition has just been released.
- ISBN 0321305027

Eclipse 3.0 FAQs

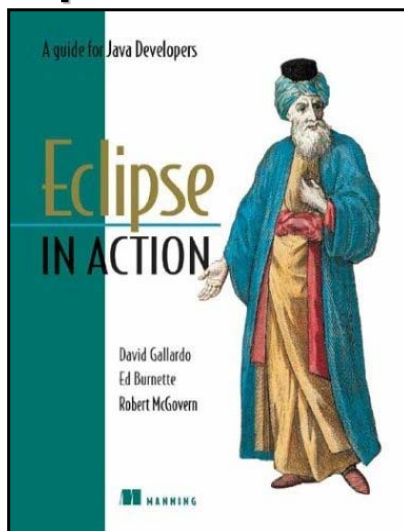

- This book is a huge help for developers moving to V3.0.
- The book comes with a CD. You can install the full text of the book into the Eclipse help system.
- ISBN 0321268385

Contributing to Eclipse

- If you want to write plug-ins, you must get this book.
- Written by gurus Erich Gamma and Kent Beck, it shows you how to extend Eclipse.
- ISBN 0321205758

Eclipse in Action

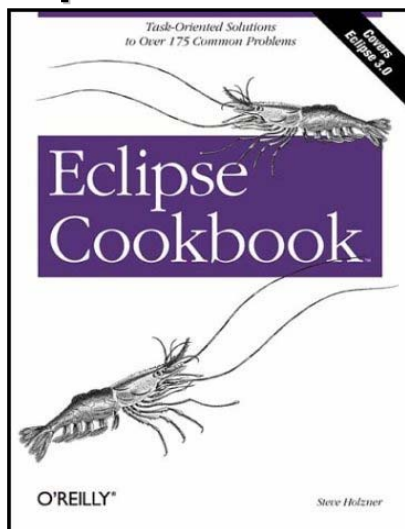

- A good book if you're just starting with Eclipse.
- ISBN 1930110960

Eclipse (O'Reilly)

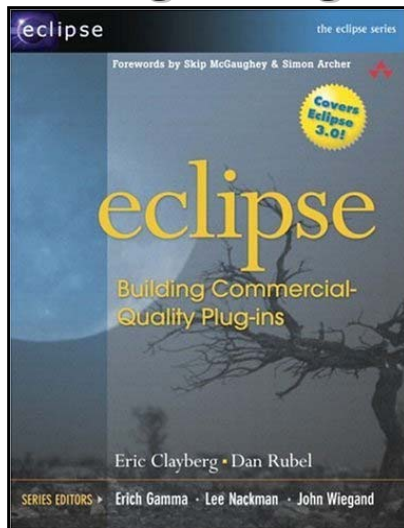

- Another good book if you're just starting with Eclipse.
- ISBN 0596006411

Eclipse Cookbook

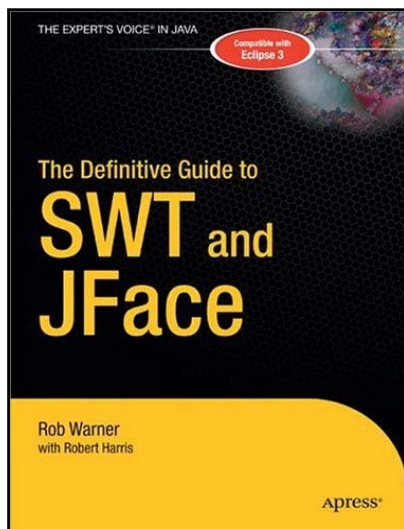

- Shows you how to do common tasks with Eclipse, such as debugging, refactoring or creating plug-ins.
- Doesn't go into too much detail...
- ISBN 0596007108

Building...Plug-ins

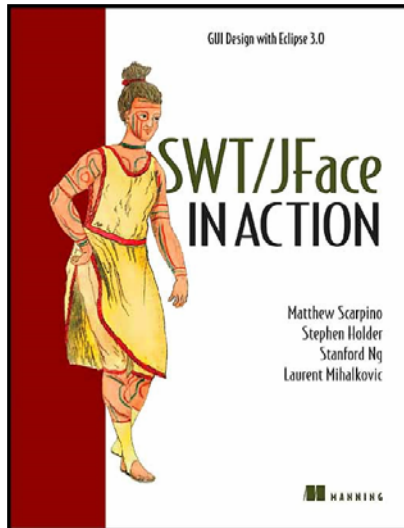

- When you're ready to build world-class plug-ins, this is the book for you.
- ISBN 0321228472

SWT and JFace

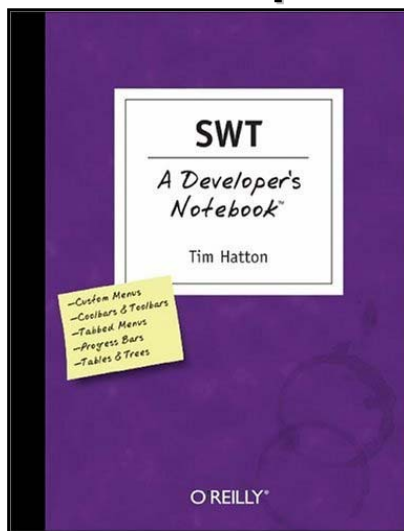

- If you want to work with the Eclipse windowing frameworks, this is the best book I've seen on the subject.
- ISBN 1590593251

SWT/JFace in Action

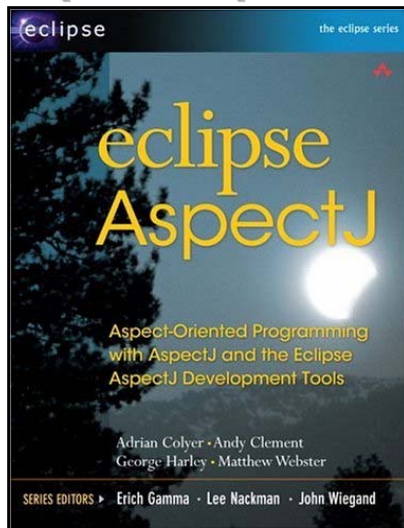

- Another in-depth book on the Eclipse graphical frameworks.
- Will be in stores very soon...
- ISBN 1932394273

SWT Developer's Notebook

- The latest from the O'Reilly notebook series.
- ISBN 0596008384

Eclipse AspectJ

- If you're working with aspect-oriented programming, this book sounds great. (It's not out yet...)
- ISBN 0321245873

eclipse.org/
ibm.com/university/

IBM

Communities

eclipse

Communities

- Eclipse is a great tool by itself, but the community behind it is what makes Eclipse so exciting.
- In addition to the forums and FAQs at the Eclipse sites mentioned earlier, there are communities for specific interest, languages, and so forth.

Communities

- Visit `eclipse.org/community` to find links to Eclipse groups all over the world.
 - There are communities in French, German, Korean and Japanese.
 - None in Italian (yet...)